MAURY I. DIGGS HAS DISAPPEARED

WANTED ON SERIOUS CHARGE

Prisoner, Out on Heavy
Bail, in Further Trouble

Ida Pearring, Aged 17
Years, Accuses

BULLETIN.

John Gilligan, one of the men accused with Maury I. Diggs of assaulting Ida M. Pearring, was arrested at the Hotel Turpin this afternoon. Before holding him at the city prison, Detective Sergeant Redmond had him positively identified by Mrs. Elizabeth Pearring, mother of the girl, Gilligan registered at the Turpin January 26 under the name of Avery. He said he was a Sacramento attorney. He refused absolutely to make any statement after being booked at the prison.

ADmits IDENTITY.

Late Chicago said his name was Walter I. Gilligan. He admitted his identity only after detectives had taken him from the Hotel Turpin to a nearby saloon, where he "let it out." He had posed as Attorney J. E. Howe of Sacramento, to whom he was writing a letter. He said that he had come here to defend the three men accused.

After his identity had been established he consented to make a short statement. "I am sorry for Fisher because he is married and it will be awfully hard on him. I spent last night with Fisher and Diggs and I know where they are now but I won't tell."

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 31.—Maury I. Diggs, former state architect, and under sentence of two years in San Quentin penitentiary for violating the Mann white slave act, who is accused of a felonious assault by 17-year-old Ida Pearring, has disappeared.

Detective Sergeant Joseph Redmond who has charge of the investigation into the accusations preferred by the young girl, declared this morning that had the case been properly handled he would have had Diggs in custody as well as John Gilligan and John Doe Fisher, jointly accused with him.

"If Mrs. Pearring instead of first consulting an attorney, had notified us, we would have caught our men a long time ago," said Redmond. "They had a chance to get away easily if they wanted to, and it looks as though Gilligan and Fisher had left. Where Diggs is I don't know. He is under heavy bonds in the superior court and I thought last night that we

$6,500,000 SECURE N. E. RY. CREDITORS

Sloss Firms Turn Sum
Over to Trustee,
Pending Sale

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 31.—To secure the creditors of the Northern Electric Railway pending the sale of a bond issue for the refunding of that road, the firms of Louis Sloss & Co. and Sloss Brothers and Mrs. Sarah Sloss have turned over a total of $6,500,000 to a board of trustees appointed yesterday to take charge of the railway's affairs.

The corporation was organized today by the Sloss Securities Company, capitalized at $5,000,000, and the Sloss Corporation, capitalized at $1,500,000. These two companies will be controlled by the same directors, five of whom, Frank B. Anderson, Herbert Fleischacker, E. S. Haller, Percy Morgan and John S. Drum, will have charge of the refunding of the Northern Electric.

Drum issued a statement last night saying that the Northern Electric's solvency had never been questioned, but that, owing to the tightness of the market, obligations were difficult to obtain. All creditors will be asked to present their notes and certificates to the board of trustees for one year (interest to be paid), during which period plans of refunding the company will be carried out.

'GO-TO-CHURCH' CAMPAIGN IS ON IN SAN LEANDRO

SAN LEANDRO, Jan. 31.—"Staying away from church is only a habit. Lose it."

This is the slogan of the Presbyterian church of this city in its latest movement, known as the "Go to Church" campaign. House to house committees will round up members of the congregation and all others in the novel bid to church attendance and conferences will be furnished the aged and infirm to allow them also to attend services.

"Staying away from church," say the crusaders, in their announcement, "is a habit, but it is not a good habit. It is our desire to awaken an interest in every man, woman and child, so that the first Sunday in March will see all in church."

The campaigners are not only making bids for their own church, according to Rev. Norman Brown, the pastor, but are urging that every citizen attend his own particular house of worship.

WILL UNITE OLD PARTY FACTIONS

Ex-Assemblyman Drew to Align Self With Republicans

FRESNO, Jan. 31.—At a meeting this morning of the Fresno county Republican (regular) central committee, former Assemblyman A. M. Drew announced that he would align himself with the regular Republican organization in California and would work to bring all Republican factions together. Chairman Frank H. Short of the committee resigned, declaring his business demands all his time.

A letter from Senator Works to Drew advocating the nomination of Republican candidates with Progressive principles met with the approval of the committee, and it was voted to use the letter as campaign literature.

Works declared that had it not been for the defection of the Progressives, the Progressive element in the Republican party would now be in control. The Progressive Republican element, he declared, is already uppermost in California and in several other states, and had there not been a division of forces, a Progressive Republican President could have been elected by 1915. Works insisted that if the Republican party in California insists upon electing to office reactionary candidates no Progressive Republican can consistently lend his support to the party, and men of Progressive principles will be forced to seek another political alliance.

"As to the fundamental principles of progress towards a more complete control of the government and its affairs by the people as against special interests and the political machines, the temper of the American people cannot be misunderstood," asserted Works. "The Republican party must bow to the public will in this respect or go to the wall."

SAN DIEGO, Jan. 31.—Despite appeals by Sub-Prefecto Enrique Aldrete of Tijuana, Mexico, there is still a strong belief on the part of United States authorities that El W. Harwood and Mortimer Miller, the two Americans who were sent south toward Ensenada Wednesday under a guard of Mexican federal soldiers, have been executed under the fugitive law. If Aldrete's assertion that the prisoners were sent south in good faith is true the party will reach Ensenada this afternoon.

other Americans held in the jail at Tijuana, but it is assumed that at least one other American is still there and it is believed that the Mexican federal troops are still searching for the other members of Harwood's party.

BOY BANDIT ATTEMPTS BREAK

16-Year-Old Eastland
Britton Assaults
Watchman

Fails in His Attempt to Escape From School
at Preston

Six days after he was confined in the Preston School of Industry at Lore, Eastland Britton, the 16-year-old youth who, with Millard Cooke, held up the clerks at the Hotel Athens on December 2 last, viciously assaulted one of the night watchmen in the reformatory in an attempt to obtain his keys and make a break for liberty, according to reports which reached the sheriff's office today.

The attack was made during the night when Watchman Frank Watkins was making his rounds. Suddenly he was jumped upon from behind and dealt three hard blows over the head with a heavy iron bolt which young Britton had concealed in his bunk.

Struggling with his assailant, the watchman succeeded in throwing him off and in turning in a general alarm. Other guards rushed to the dormitory and subdued the threatened uprising of the youthful inmates. Britton was placed in close confinement. It is possible that charges of assault with intent to commit murder may be brought against him. The condition of the injured watchman was for a time serious.

OTHERS MIGHT HAVE ESCAPED. When questioned about the attack, the youth is said to have declared that it was his intention to kill the man and make his escape. Britton was assisted by two other youths in the attempted break. His former partner, Cooke, was not implicated, but there were about 50 other youths in the building who would have been able to make their escape had the assault proved successful.

Several days before he was committed to Preston by Superior Judge

SWIFT FACES FINE OF OVER MILLION

Indictments for Rebating Returned Against Firm and Others

CHICAGO, Jan. 31.—Indictments charging rebating were returned by the federal grand jury against Swift & Co. and the Pennsylvania railroad, the Panhandle lines and the Chicago and Northwestern railroad. Two bills were found against the Panhandle. Swift & Co. face a possible fine of $1,200,000. The bill charges 60 alleged violations of the interstate commerce law. The Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis railroad, known as the Panhandle, and the Pennsylvania Company are named in one joint indictment and a separate indictment in addition is returned against the Panhandle.

Swift & Co. may be liable for fines of $20,000 each on the 60 counts. It was charged that the packing company obtained concessions from the published railroad rates of the Chicago and Northwestern road and the Ann Arbor Railroad Company on various shipments from Chicago to points on the Ann Arbor road. The concessions were obtained, it is said, by obtaining railroad rates on less than carload shipments.

The number is approximately the same as the different parties as follows: Republican, 11,956; Progressive, 13,731; Democrat, 3,195; Socialist, 1,465; Prohibition, 209; Independent, 130; no affiliation, 749.

Asks Guardianship Of Wealthy Sister

Mrs. Maria A. Toier of San Leandro has petitioned the Superior Court for letters of guardianship over the person of her aged sister, Ludovina P. De Ivey, who possesses an estate valued at near half a million dollars. According to the petition Mrs. De Ivey, who is 85 years of age, is physically and mentally incompetent to manage her own affairs. The estate consists of more than $200,000 in Alameda county realty and as much more in cash, bonds and mortgages. Besides the sister the only heirs are nieces and nephews.

Rebels Leave Cape For Port-au-Prince

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—Only a small number of rebels have left Cape Haytien, Hayti and the town is quiet. Most of the rebels there have left for Port-au-Prince, where the next developments are expected.

NERVOUS ONLY AT START. "I was not a bit afraid," declared Miss Bowers after her return from her perilous flight. "It was somewhat nervous work getting started, but once on the flights of stairs I was not bothered at all. It was certainly an interesting and exciting experience and the only thing I have to regret is that there were no steps to the very top of the pinnacle. I should have liked to have seen the view from up there. It was so beautiful as it was that I really did not have time to be afraid. I was so busy looking around."

Turkey and many other delicacies formed the menu which was served to this noon. Baskets after baskets of food was swung aloft by means of the derricks which for months have been hauling tons of steel higher and higher in the tower. The banquet was given this noon the banquet to the structural iron men.

SERIOUSLY CRUSHED UNDER FOLDING-BED

Mrs. M. Adyette Victim of Peculiar Accident

Crushed under a folding bed which loosened, crashed to the floor, Mrs. Minnie Adyette, president of Past Commanders, Ladies of the Macca-bees, and prominent Oakland lodge woman, is today confined to her home on Athol avenue, suffering from severe bruises and lacerations, as well as a badly injured foot, many of the small bones being broken. Physicians today declared that she would probably be confined to her bed for several weeks as a result of the accident.

The mishap occurred some days ago. Mrs. Adyette was attempting to open the bed, which had become stuck, probably on account of the damp weather. Attempting to force the bed open she pulled it from the top, when the entire piece of furniture toppled over, crashing to the floor and pinning her underneath. Her cries summoned aid and she was extricated from her painful position. An operation may be necessary to set the broken bones right.

Mrs. Adyette had planned several appearances before local lodges which will be postponed pending her recovery.

Wants Tveitmo's New Trial Grant Set Aside

CHICAGO, Jan. 21.—A petition to the U. S. Court of Appeals to have set aside its grant of a new trial to Olaf A. Tveitmo of San Francisco, Richard H. Houlihan of Chicago and Wm. Bernhardt of Cincinnati, convicted in the dynamite trials at Indianapolis, was filed today by Frank C. Daley, U. S. district attorney at Indianapolis. The government did not petition for a new trial for McCall of Kansas City, James E. Day of Portland, or Fred Sherman of Indianapolis. In the government brief Daley asserts that Tveitmo, Houlihan and Bernhardt are just as intimately connected with the alleged conspiracy to transport explosives as was the 24 labor union officials now under sentence, to whom new trials were refused.

The husband sustained a possible fracture of his skull and Mrs. Meppo, who is employed at the St. Anthony's hospital, received a wounded knee. Both left the hospital for their home following treatment by Drs. Belsky and Irwin.

CHILDREN LOVE SYRUP OF FIGS

It Is Cruel to Force Nauseating
Harsh Physic Into a Sick Child.

Look back at your childhood days. Remember the "dose" mother insisted on—castor oil, calomel, cathartics. How you hated them, how you fought against taking them.

With our children it's different. Mothers who cling to the old form of physic simply don't realize what they do. The children's revolt is well founded. Their little "insides" are injured by them.

If your child's stomach, liver and bowels need cleansing, give only delicious "California Syrup of Figs." Its action is positive, but gentle. Millions of mothers keep this harmless "laxative" handy, so that their children never to take it; that it never fails to clean the liver and bowels.

Responsible given today saved a sick child tomorrow. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on each bottle. Beware of counterfeiters sold here. See that it is made by California Fig Syrup Company. Refuse any other kind with contempt.

RICHMOND, Jan. 31.—Nearly 200 members and delegates are here attending the convention of the Past Commanders' Association of the Ladies of the Maccabees of northern California and the district convention of the Ladies of the Maccabees for the bay counties. The convention opened yesterday at Pythian Castle with Mrs. Lulu Roe, district deputy, presiding in the absence of Mrs. Minnie Adolphe of Oakland.

Business sessions occupied much of the first day's session, including the election of officers and the choosing of San Francisco as the place of the next convention.

THOSE ELECTED.

The officers of the Past Commanders' Association elected last night are: President, Margaret Morris, of Stockton; vice-president, Mrs. Stoddard, of Oakland; secretary, Mabel Meyers, of Oakland; treasurer, Hulda Black, of Oakland; marshal, Marie Church, of Richmond; guard, Anna Howard, of San Francisco; musician, Eva Waterhouse, of San Francisco; trustees, Cora Delana, of San Francisco and Sarah Hodges, of Richmond.

Today Melrose, Argonaut of San Francisco and Mission Hives will exemplify the ritual and the banner for the greatest gain in membership will be formally presented to Selma Hives while the loving cup for the best district showing will be given to Santa Rosa.

Last evening the newly-named officers of Richmond Hives were installed and then dancing rounded out the evening.

RICHMOND HIVES ARE:

During their stay here the ladies of the order have been extensively entertained by women of this town and they have enjoyed the time they have put in between sessions.

SMALL BURGLARS REPORTED.

J. W. Simonds, 761 Eleventh street, reported to the police that his place of business was entered during the night by burglars who forced the rear door and took two cans of coffee and a small amount of money.

Ge. Hing Doon, 1906 Webster street, reported the theft of a pair of eye-glasses valued at $15.

IT MUST BE TRUE

Oakland Readers Must Come to That Conclusion.

It is not the telling of a single case in Oakland, but a number of citizens testify. Endorsement by people you know bears the stamp of truth. The following is one of the public statements made in this locality about Doan's Kidney Pills:

George R. Scott, retired carpenter and builder, 698 Thirty-seventh St., Oakland, Cal., says: "For seventeen years I was in poor health and I couldn't get relief. I finally got so bad I had to retire from business. During all these years I suffered greatly and had almost given up the attempt to get relief when I read about Doan's Kidney Pills. They helped me so much that I continued using them. I am now feeling better than I have for years. The kidney weakness has left me and my back is in much better shape."

Lasting Results.

On September 18, 1912, Mr. Scott said: "I haven't had to use Doan's Kidney Pills since I endorsed them. I give this remedy credit for this great improvement."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Scott had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

PACKED MASS-MEET HEARS SALOON TRAFFIC EVILS

Voters at Garfield School Gathering Promise Support in Welfare League Fight

At a packed mass meeting at the Garfield school last night, ex-Councilman A. H. Elliot and Miss Elizabeth Sherman called the voters of the district to the defense of the city council's ordinance regulating and reducing by 200 Oakland's saloons, and, as a result of the session, the clubwomen and parents of that district promised their support to the Public Welfare League in its fight against the saloonmen's initiative ordinance to come before the people for a vote February 17.

Elliot told of former attempts to regulate the saloon traffic, of the pressure brought against city officials in any attempt to close or curb the liquor men of a city in their trade, and of the different cases in Oakland where he had personally come into the final details of the fight at the polls are being laid out.

Plans are being made for a series of rousing mass meetings next week and several speakers of importance will be introduced. D. M. Gandler of the Anti-Saloon League will speak, together with several of the league officials and local business men. Plans are already under way also for the final week of the campaign, at which a whirlwind series of meetings in all parts of the city will deal the final blow for civic decency before the matter is settled at the polls. Automobiles bearing prominent speakers will range the outside districts of the city nightly, and finally will hold street corner meetings in the downtown sections.

"Campaign Sunday" will be held a week from tomorrow. Every clergyman in the city will be asked to deliver a sermon on the subject of the saloon issue, and it is expected that nearly every church will participate.

Several other guns in the campaign will be fired in the near future, according to league officials, a number of plans being under way to further bring before the public the issue of the saloons and their regulations. Particulars of these will be given out by the league in the coming days. Meetings for next week will probably be announced this evening.

Under the auspices of the Scandinavian churches of Oakland, a mass meeting will be held Tuesday night in the First Congregational church. Rev. W. F. Seawell will speak in the Scandinavian language and D. M. Gandler and another speaker, to be chosen, in English.

PRISONER ESCAPES FROM CUSTODIAN

Fred G. Schwartz Slips Irons and Gets Away From Sheriff Barnett.

Fred G. Schwartz, a paroled burglar, who was recently arrested at Jacksonville, Fla., and whom Sheriff Frank Barnett was bringing back to this county, escaped from the Southern Pacific train near Montalvo, Ventura county, at 2 o'clock yesterday morning by jumping through a car window with his handcuffs on after slipping his leg irons. Sheriff Barnett was to have arrived in Oakland last evening. He has remained in the south in an effort to recapture his prisoner. Sheriff McLaughlin, Ventura county, is endeavoring to locate Schwartz, who is supposed to have stolen a portion of the night in a hotel at Ventura.

Schwartz was placed on probation by Superior Judge Waste last October when he pleaded guilty to stealing a pair of trousers from a tent in East Oakland and was sentenced to a term of six months in the county jail.

At a local bank the next morning on presenting the check.

NURSED HIS MOTHER.

The report of the probation officer showed that Schwartz had shortly before coming to Oakland nursed an invalid mother, who died. Then he took to wandering about the country. A woman in Berkeley became interested in his case and offered him a home. He was given employment in a Berkeley machine shop. One evening not long ago he returned home from work and found that his mother had died.

Without obtaining his release from the probation office and without obtaining any of his clothes or money, he left the city.

At Jacksonville he was arrested with a quantity of silverware in his possession. In explanation Schwartz said that he had found it in a box car. There was not sufficient evidence to convict him, but in his conversation with the officials he admitted that he was on probation in Alameda county, California. The local authorities were communicated with and a detainer against Schwartz was placed after the probation officer as an example to other probationers and in support of the probation system. The authorities felt that the case was a serious one, and that the defendant back would be warranted under the circumstances.

WENT TO ST. LOUIS.

At the time Sheriff Barnett left for Florida, Deputy Sheriff Jeff Scanlon went to St. Louis to bring back for trial Charles H. Gussner, who jumped $1000 bail after he was held to answer in the Superior Court on a charge of fraudulent operations in connection with horse deals. With his former partner, A. F. Gormley, Gussner was indicted by the grand jury last week as the receiver of Missouri. He would not recognize the complaint against him as sufficient grounds for extradition papers being granted.

GANDLERS WILL

BEGIN TOMORROW

Festival to Be Observed in St. John's Episcopal Church.

With impressive ceremonies the festival of Gandemas will be observed tomorrow evening in St. John's church, Eighth and Grove streets, where Rev. Irving Spencer, rector of the parish, will lead the exercises. The exercises will be simple and will precede the Gandemas observance. The address upon "The Feast" will be delivered by Father Spencer and the festival solemnities will commence immediately after the entrance of the choir.

The choral and church will be illuminated wholly by candle light and the soprano soloist will be Master Francis Neilson. The selections will be "Ave Maria," by Gounod; "Whoso Dwelleth in the House of the Lord," by "The High," an anthem, and a solo, "He Shall Give His Angels Charge," by Master Neilson.

The choir has been rehearsing for many weeks for the celebration, which is considered one of the most important in the church calendar. The services will be public.

CALIFORNIA CAT CLUB

SHOW DRAWS HUNDREDS

The annual cat show of the California Cat Club, which opened yesterday under the auspices of the California Cat Club, drew a large crowd of cat lovers to the department store, where a contest for hundreds of feline lovers today. This afternoon's performance will culminate in the final decision being scheduled for late today. A number of judgments were made yesterday by Mrs. Lela Besse of Chicago, secretary of the American Cat Association, who is judging the show.

The principal award will be made this afternoon, when the grand prize will be given. Competition for this honor is keen between the Star of Bengal, owned by Mrs. Edith Davis; Erebus, a black Persian, owned by Mrs. Bessie of Seattle; and Bob Roy of Claremont, recently winner of the grand prize at Sacramento.

One of the features of yesterday's affair was the taking of "movies" of the various performers. Several of the extremely aristocratic refused to first pose for the camera, but after some inducement were finally persuaded to consent to have themselves put in the "movies."

All of the exhibitors have been impressed with the necessity of abiding by the strict rules of the contest without comment. Last year the organization was almost torn asunder through depreciating remarks as to the ability of the judges.

The trophies which will be awarded include the Victor Reiter challenge cup, H. C. Caswell and Taft & Penney special prizes.

TRIPLE MURDER FUGITIVE

SURRENDERS TO BROTHER

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Jan. 31.—John Henry, fugitive wanted for the murder of Charles Eard, Everett E. Crain and Howard Crain, is at his home in Woodson, eight miles from here tonight. Jesse Henry, of East St. Louis, who has been guarding his brother's wife at his home, answered a knock at the door about 10 o'clock and heard his brother say:

"This is a bad night out in the cold and snow. Won't you let me come in and stay tonight. I want to give myself up tomorrow."

Mrs. Henry, whom her husband last Tuesday night attempted to kill, was in the house, but Henry was admitted to his own home to spend the night.

Jesse Henry called Sheriff Rogers of this city by telephone and told him he would give up his brother and come and get his brother tomorrow morning. The sheriff agreed.

VERNON KING.

Claremont Students Will Be Heard in Many Novel Affairs.

The choral work in the Claremont school will be an interesting part of the curriculum this term. The juvenile singers of the low eighth grade gave a praiseworthy program at the final exercises of the winter session last year. The underclass pupils assisted the graduates in choral and instrumental numbers. There were three songs given by the class. The readings were presented by: Orvil Keesh, Lillian Ames and Vera Williams. The history of the class of January, 1914, was read by Clifford Ostrom and the class program was given by Mary Rice.

The names of the eleven pupils who took part in the closing entertainment were: Clifford Ostrom, the first held in the new school building has been recorded in the school annals.

The little folks who contributed numbers were Cecilia Arrillaga, Mary Wilson, Mabel Gilbert, Edith Hansen, Robert Kellogg.

The class officers of the first graduation set were Willie Brougher, president, Alex Genesey, vice-president; Edith Hansen, secretary; Clifford Ostrom, historian, and Mary Rice, prophet.

The members of the class were: Ivy Little, Lucille Craig, Mary Rice, Cecilia Arrillaga, Lillian Baker, Edith Hansen, Mabel Gilbert, Marianne Mahan, Vera Williams, Edna Dillon, George Holroyd, Richard Holroyd, Oswald Dornie, Clayton Hardin, Clifford Ostrom, Robert Kellogg, Alexander Genesey, Willie Brougher.

In the athletic and social movements of the Piedmont grammar school Vernon King, who was awarded his diploma with the January graduating class of that school, was a leader. The lad displayed much school spirit and sportsmanship in all his work. He was an enthusiastic basketball player and was skillful at baseball.

The boys and girls of the Piedmont school have declared that they would remain loyal to their parent institution. On the day that they received their diplomas Principal Wheeler stated that he was keenly interested in the success of the graduates, whom he invited to return to the school, from time to time, to report their progress.

In all the grammar schools the children's loyalty was shown in all the organizations. The pupils remained steadfast to their class colors and proudly exhibited them at the commencement exercises.

Girls of the ungraded class of the Prescott school are now making their dresses and many pretty costumes have already resulted from their handwork. They are under the direction of Miss Helen Walker, who states that the course is one of the most useful in the school.

In the ungraded class for the boys the youths are showing skill with their tools. At the close of the term the pupils will exhibit their work, which is now being prepared as a part of the manual training course.

MISS QUAYLE IMPROVING.

BALTIMORE, Jan. 31.—Miss Margaret Quayle, daughter of Bishop Quayle of the Methodist Episcopal church, who is receiving radium treatment here, is gaining in strength, according to a statement made by her mother. No information could be obtained as to the condition of Congressman Bremner, who also is undergoing radium treatment.

There are 65 boys and girls in the kindergarten of the Prescott grammar school of West Oakland. Miss Mary Rust, a graduate kindergarten instructor, has charge and she is teaching the folk-dances to the tots. At half hour sessions at noon the lessons in the European steps are given.

The kindergarten class is given instruction in the simple designs in clay modeling.

Throughout this city the kindergartens are now established and they are progressing.

A Knock at Knowland.

The genius who lucubrates on politics in the columns of the San Francisco Examiner has set himself the congenial task of "knocking" Congressman Knowland's tentative candidacy for the Senate. He cites the Progressive registration in Alameda county as an evidence that Mr. Knowland's popularity is declining in his home district.

The idea is grotesquely absurd. Joe Knowland was never more popular with his neighbors and his constituents than he is today. He can always have a seat in Congress presented to him on a silver platter. His popularity extends to men of all parties, all conditions and all classes. He is by long odds the most popular man Alameda county has contributed to public life. He can beat any opposing candidate in the primaries hands down. At the general election he can poll a large majority over the combined vote of all other candidates. A majority of the electors registered as Progressives will vote to send Knowland to the Senate. They will vote for no other Republican candidate. True they cannot vote for him at the primary election; neither can they vote for any other Republican candidate.

Whether Mr. Knowland will run for the Senate we do not know, but if he desires to be a candidate he cannot be touted out of the race by any aspirant who hopes to get a nomination by attacking the availability of other candidates.

In the primaries two years ago Mr. Knowland beat a popular Progressive of high character by a majority of two to one. At the general election he was elected to the Senate by over 7000, although Roosevelt and Johnson carried the county by over 7000. He can do the trick again as a candidate for the Senate. Nobody can touch him in his own district.

It is THE TRIBUNE'S belief that Mr. Knowland can poll more votes in the State at large than any Republican yet named for Senator. His popularity extends to every county in the State. Wherever he is known he is known favorably, and every section of California knows him. He is popular because he is clean and able, and his made good in every position he has been placed—as Assemblyman, State Senator and Congressman. Because he is exceptionally strong, weak men are trying to tout him out of the Senatorial fight.

The advocates of the liquor ordinance initiated by the saloonkeepers studiously avoid discussing the provisions of that proposition. They show that they are fully aware of the iniquity of the measure by deliberately misrepresenting its purport. They are ashamed to say what it really means. Their campaign is one of deception and falsehood. They are trying to gild with lies the rawest proposition ever brought forward in this State. They recoil from stating in unequivocal terms what they propose to do. They are afraid of the truth, and show their fear by deliberately misrepresenting the tenor and effect of the measure they are advocating.

News From the Pound.

The Enquirer tries to make up for the deficiencies of its news service by boasting in its editorial columns. It proves it is a great newspaper by inviting the public to inspect its garbage can. It prints a list of alleged beats that reads as if it had been prepared by some wag who has silly taken this method of showing what a joke the Enquirer is as a newspaper. Here is a specimen of the exclusive items of news it has printed: "Dog shot by posse who believe it to be wolf." This stirring tale of canine slaughter may be important to a journal which cannot tell a saloon from a labor union, but it is not impressive to a newspaper that has to crowd its columns to print all the news that comes to it. Each day the Associated Press sends THE TRIBUNE 15,000 words of fresh telegraph news, which we print and pass on for the Enquirer to use in its later editions. We print eighteen pages to the Enquirer's twelve and four copies to its one, and do not feel called upon to inquire at the pound now many dogs are executed, or whether some policeman suspects any dispatched canine of being a wolf. What is trivial in the Enquirer is original and what has a real news value is taken from earlier editions of THE TRIBUNE.

Sacramento is discovering that the commission form of government is not per se economical, however efficient it may be. In some instances it is bound to be both extravagant and inefficient. It all depends upon the quality of the men the people place at the head of their government. No elective system yet devised can eliminate the personal equation from the business of government. Hence all efforts to get a system that will make good government automatic have failed.

Attacking Transportation Efficiency.

Attorney General McReynolds announces that he will soon institute an action to "divorce" the Southern Pacific from the Central Pacific on the ground that the union is a combination in restraint of trade. That is just what it is not. Whatever it might have been in the past the merger does not now and cannot restrain trade under existing conditions. Rates are at present fixed by the State Railroad and Interstate Commerce Commissions, and dissolving the merger would not benefit a single shipper served by the Southern Pacific system.

Formerly the Southern Pacific had a virtual monopoly of the rail transportation business in all California north of the Tehachapi divide but that condition disappeared many years ago. And dissolving the merger will not provide competition where it does not now exist. But it will decrease the efficiency of the service now rendered by the united system and increase the operating expense, which increase will be an additional tax on traffic. Since the railroads have been brought under effective control and deprived of the power to discriminate, the objections to the merger have disappeared. The people of this State do not want it dissolved because they realize that they can get better service at lower cost by having the Central and Southern Pacific operated as one system. However, the Attorney-General sets up theory against fact, and proposes to tear the two roads apart although doing so will defeat the very purpose the Sherman act was enacted to serve—namely, to prevent exaction and monopoly.

Unmerging for the sake of unmerging, especially where it does harm instead of good, is poor business. It is employing the sword for a purpose that is directly contrary to its intent.

The Bookkeeper and the Stenographer Didn't Know the Boss Was Doing It, Too

Crooks as Prison Censors.

It is stated that the charges made by Julian Hawthorne against the warden of the Federal prison at Atlanta have been completely disproved. Julian Hawthorne should have been required to prove the charges he made, which were obviously prompted by spite. Since a portion of the press has accepted convicts as censors of prison management, every prison official is expected to prove himself innocent of charges maliciously made by any crook whom he is compelled to hold in confinement. This rule would require prisons to be run to suit criminals. Julian Hawthorne is exploiting his prison experiences for profit. The truth will not serve his purpose half so well as fiction. He prostituted his literary skill and the reputation he had gained to promote a swindle. He lied then, and it is a reasonable presumption that he is lying now. Not only has he a personal end to gain by picturing himself as a victim of cruelty and persecution, but it makes the stuff he is turning out more readable and enables him to gratify a mean grudge. At bottom, he complains because he was not shown special favor by Warden Moyer. No person accused of crime is required to prove himself innocent. His accuser is required to prove him guilty. Why should an officer of the law with an honorable record be presumed to be guilty on the unsupported word of a rogue?

The Enquirer persists in saying the saloonkeepers' ordinance eliminates saloons from the residence districts. That is precisely what it does not do. It provides that every owner of a saloon in a residence district shall have his license renewed on application. The existing ordinance prohibits the licensing of any saloon in a residence district. Under this provision of the ordinance which the Enquirer wishes to repeal every one of the twenty-two saloons at present open in residence districts will cease to exist on July 1. They will be given a legally vested right to remain open if the saloonkeepers' ordinance should be adopted on February 17.

BUCKNER AND GRANT

In the case of Ulysses S. Grant and Simon Butler Buckner, winner and loser, there came more in a new relation. Buckner, now dead at 51, was Grant's friend at West Point in youth, his comrade in the army, his enemy in the civil war and again his friend in peace. Buckner was born in 1822, one year later than Grant. He graduated in 1841, again one year later than Grant. Young officers in the Mexican war, they both gained distinction, and they met as foes 14 years later at Donelson, where, abandoned by his superiors, Ford and Pillow, Buckner was compelled by circumstances to make an "unconditional surrender," against which he protested in vehement language. This capitulation gave Grant fame. It humiliated Buckner and made him a prisoner. As was the custom at that time, Buckner was exchanged and resumed his command, becoming eventually a Lieutenant General, serving as such during further years of hard fighting. Grant went on to Elkhorn Vicksburg. History has no parallel to the scene enacted at Mount McGregor. In this state 29 years ago when Grant, victorious and dying, received in affectionate embrace Buckner, always the friend, Buckner, always the patriot, Buckner, always the true American, in spite of conflicting principles. From that sad height in 1863, when both winner and loser were revealed as victors in a realm morally as great as any that ever hung upon the issue of battle, a message of peace and brotherhood went forth to Americans that will endure for years.—New York World

Illumination for Office and Home

Why is the use of globes so frequent at the present time, as compared with only a few years ago? Perhaps the chief cause is ignorant or careless adjustment of the light to the reading or working position. This is particularly true in the large modern office, where the chief clerk is the center of the universe for the stenographer and the bookkeeper. Proper illumination of this work is of secondary importance. Not every desk can be placed by a window, and usually windows will be found only on one side of a room, or at the end, so that ample provision has to be made for artificial lighting. Strong and even illumination is necessary. Desk lamps should be thoroughly screened so that they can't shine into anybody's eyes. They should be so placed that they cast a shadow of the hand or pen on the paper when writing. A frosted globe gives a softer light than the ordinary unfrustrated globe, and a 16-candlepower lamp usually gives sufficient illumination for the ordinary desk work. Too strong a light is as trying to the eyes as too weak an illumination. A north light is the best, being soft and steady. All desks near windows should be so placed that the light comes from the left side. The light given for reading and writing, that the light should come obliquely over the left shoulder, well illustrates ordinary requirements. In the modern home the incandescent electric lamp holds first place as an illuminant. They should always, however, be furnished with ground bulbs, or, better, so shaded as greatly to reduce their otherwise very high intrinsic brilliancy. Where the mantle gas burners are used they should always be shaded, both to reduce the brilliancy and some of the recent mantles, giving an amber tone to the light, are available.—American Medical Association Journal

INTERESTING BITS

Africans have a penchant for musical instruments and the wealthier classes import some costly makes. It is of record that an African nobleman sent out to Europe for a grand piano and on its return, as he was the lower part of it, he found it most convenient to play it while squatting on the floor. A San Francisco electrical company is making use of a demonstration car to make rural communities acquainted with the use of the current on the farm and in the household.

20 YEARS AGO TODAY

Whatever can be said of Colonel Robinson, it was he who made the California Baseball League more than a collection of amateur players and while he wrecked the league by placing salaries so high that the people would not support the clubs, still in doing this he gave the people a first-class quality of baseball. When the league broke because of this condition, the people had been educated to a National League standard and would have nothing else. So baseball will languish on this coast for a while. The employees of the post office received their pay today for the month, nearly $4000 being required for the purpose. City Attorney Johnson has given an opinion to the effect that the ordinance introduced by Congressman Dargie, placing a ground tax of $5 a year on every telephone and telephone pole in the city of Oakland is legal, and will be held so to be by the courts. Miss De Etta Price of Highland Park, East Oakland, accompanied by her cousin, Miss Maud McMechan, arrived from the Columbian exposition. The appointment of Colonel J. B. Fuller of Marysville as Bank Commissioner by Governor Markham meets with the solid approval and endorsement of the California press. As yet no town, with the exception of Oakland, has been spoken of in connection with the meeting place of the Republican State convention. The last time a Republican convention was held south of the Tehachapi mountains the entire ticket was defeated. That was in 1886, when Swift and Waterman were nominated. Los Angeles was the meeting place in that year of defeat.

THE merry whirl goes on marking the mid-season days. Ash Wednesday, ushering in Lent, will be here on February 25, and until then the days are filled to overflowing with social dates. Many hostesses have obligations to pay, and they have commitments which they wish also to offer to their friends, and there are, besides, the many card clubs, and the many study clubs, all requiring time, but all full of absorbing interest. People have learned the value of the time, and the average woman knows how to plan her day so that it is full to the brim of interest and yet not nerve exhausting. People are now far happier in a social life than they were in the narrow lives, with horizons not a long way off.

Each home is now a center from which much radiates of value to the friends of the hostess. Our city is fortunate in one regard—that its beautiful homes are on the outskirts of the city and hostesses may do much entertaining therein. In many other large cities the beautiful homes are at some distance, so they are practically country homes, and, except for week-end parties, there can be few entertainments. In our city the large homes offer a splendid environment for social entertainment, and hostesses have learned to share their homes in a most charming manner, planning therein many entertainments that contribute materially to the happiness of friends.

American hostesses are very versatile, and the most popular hostess is the one who does not copy any other woman, but expresses in a charming way her own personality, and our leading homes express in a happy fashion the character of the woman who has planned them. There is more visiting, much more entertaining than was formerly done, for the originality and informality lend a great charm to the social entertainment of the hour. It is no longer a duty, but a pleasure, for both the hostess and her guests.

Among the leading homes of our city, "Highlands" takes a high rank. Nearly forty years ago Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Requa came to Piedmont and built the first large home to be seen in all that section of the foothills. They are now the background for many superb residences, but "Highlands" stands on the plateau from which it derives its name, a great landmark, with a point of view not surpassed anywhere in the Piedmont hills. For all the forty years it has been the center of a hospitality most cordially and generously expressed, and as a hostess, dignified and gracious, with a genuine welcome for her friends, Mrs. Isaac Requa stands unsurpassed.

One of the truly beautiful homes of our city is that presided over by Mrs. William G. Henshaw, who has brought to beautify her home art treasures from the world over. They have been chosen with much discrimination, and they mark "Rosecrest" as the home of a hostess who has traveled much, who has seen many countries, and who has brought from each one something that expresses man's highest effort along the line of artistic achievement.

In this home are pictures of rare beauty, and splendid marbles, and no bronze statue on this side of the bay can equal the superb "Mercury" poised for flight that adorns the vestibule of the lovely Henshaw home. All her friends know that Mrs. Henshaw is happiest when she is planning good times for others, and so "Rosecrest" is full of interest always, and friends find a welcome there that is true and most sincere. And Mrs. Henshaw is always aided in entertaining her guests by her two beautiful and most charming daughters, Mrs. Harry Chickering and Miss Florence Henshaw.

Among the Linda Vista hills two homes stand out notable for the beauty of their architectural designs—the homes of Mrs. Remi Chabot and Mrs. Victor Metcalf. Mrs. Chabot's home is a splendid specimen of the French Renaissance, with its fine lines, noble in design, expressing real artistic excellence in its many details, and a great harmony in the whole composition. The lovely home, with its great row of old-fashioned trees, suggests a similar scene in the heart of France.

Mrs. Chabot also has traveled and one finds in her home rare trophies of art, and all her world comes to her: everyone sure of the welcome that has never failed; everyone sure of that genuine, kindly interest which rejoices in the gladness of a friend and which sends sympathy from the heart to lighter a sorrow. It is the human interest which lights a torch at Mrs. Chabot's hearthstone, which is one of the charms of her home. And it has another interest to her friends, in that it expresses a family affection which makes the real joy of home. For one meets at Mrs. Chabot's her daughters, Mrs. Diekmann, Mrs. Dunn, Mrs. Knight and Mrs. Bocqueraz, and their interest is added to the welcome Mrs. Chabot always has for her friends.

The Victor Metcalf home also represents the style of architecture one sees in Southern Europe, with the horizontal lines and plain facades that lend themselves to simplicity and beauty. What Southern Europe needs is also appropriate for California, and one finds this same architecture in the new homes of Mrs. S. T. Alexander, Mrs. James K. Moffitt and the William H. Chickering.

In the Sharon home have always been large family, and here one finds expressed the spirit of music and art. No home has been more helpful to struggling artists than Mrs. Sharon's, and from it has gone much that is helpful in the lives of others.

The home of the Frank Havens is expressed in the title of a recent book, "Wildwood." It is truly Oriental—the classic Oriental which finds its expression in horizontal lines and in a symbolism that is wonderfully interesting, since it is the result of many centuries of development. The true harmony and dignity of historic art is expressed in this Piedmont home, and the Japanese and Chinese rooms are true to the smallest detail. There is the charm of simplicity in the Japanese room, and some of the rarest Chinese rugs in the entire country beautify the wonderful Chinese room at "Wildwood." Many visitors to our coast ask permission now to visit this rare and unique home, and its fame has been spreading, since there is nothing like it on this coast. And it is presided over by a hostess whose charming personality is in accord with a home of wonderful and unique design.

The glory of "The Pines," the home of the P. C. Bowles, lies in its superb gardens, which now stretch for sevenvironment is beautiful, since it is exceptionally colorful. The rarest flowers from all over the world have been brought to grow in this Claremont garden, and it is a wonderful place.

At Claremont, also, is one of the most beautiful homes in that section, the splendid home of the Harry Taylors, commanding a view unsurpassed in the world. It is a home in which there is much genuine hospitality, for Mrs. Taylor entertains in a delightful fashion, not only her own friends, but those of her charming young daughter, Miss Bernice Taylor. The group of new homes at Piedmont has certainly lived up to the standard expected of them by those who have followed the modern trend, and farther into the hills, are homes destined to amount to a great deal in the future, for they have been built by the younger men of our day, and among the most beautiful of these homes are those of the Mark Requa, the Samuel Taylors, the James Moffitts, the Wallace Alexanders, the Herbert Hamiltons, the Henry Nicholas, the Louis Titus, the Walter Starrs, the Elseys, the Arthur Brooks, the Oscar Longs, the Edson Adams, the Allen Chickering, the Charles Bliss, the Thomas Cushings, the Clinton Walkers, the Oscar Sattos, the Easons, the Dennis Seales, Miss Playfers, the Johnsons, the Richardsons, the Edward Enges, the Wickham Havens and the home of Walter Leimert. The Harry Knowles will be in their new home at Piedmont some time this year, and Miss Annie Miller and her brother have recently built a most attractive home on the high hill slopes.

There are many old-time homes representing the cordial hospitality of many days. Lives have been lived out in them, youth has gloried in them—all the gradations of living one may define, but which most people appreciate. Among those homes are those of the Schillings, Mrs. Crellin, Mrs. Barker, Mrs. E. B. Beck, Mrs. J. R. Burnham, the R. G. Browns, Mrs. Stanly, the Charles H. Allens, Mrs. Charles MacDermot, the J. R. Burnhams, the A. L. Whites, the A. A. Moores, the Goodfellows, Mrs. J. T. Wright, the Minor Goodalls, Mrs. George McNear, the Edward Halls, Mrs. Sam Bell McKee, the Oliveres, the A. C. Briggs, the Woodburys, Mrs. Chamberlain and Mrs. Henry Miles Bull, Mrs. Henry Wetherbee, the Marwedels, the Sanborns, the Henry Clay Tatts, the Selbys, the Olneys. In all these homes are much of the old-fashioned lines, and others follow the modern trend. There are all sorts of entertainments—all the way down the line, from the old-fashioned sewing bee, to the tango—from the informal sewing gathering, with its harmless bit of gossip, to the one-step, which just misses the ban of "the rag." But in any case there is represented an assemblage of people, small or large as it may be, gathered together for the brighter things of life—for a social hour together, marking life's lighter side.

Mrs. Morlan C. Fox, who was Miss Etha Musser, is visiting in Berkeley but will leave in a few weeks for her home in Salt Lake City.

DRESSES CALL FOR MORE CRITICISM THAN DANCES.

"On with the dance," echoes everywhere, and even kings and queens and church dignitaries are compelled to take notice of that which they would much rather ignore. Of course, the same old conclusion is reached, that dancing is what people choose to make it, and the new dances have "come in." One might give a quiet hint that it is not the dances just now that ought to call out the deepest criticism, but the way some of the dancers are dressed.

If good Queen Mary could look in upon a Saturday afternoon dancette at the Palace, for instance, she would receive a blow from which she would be a long time in recovering. The new styles are very comfortable, very shonorable that they are beyond words. And here is a task for the patronesses of the dancettes at the Palace—one might just as well make it the Palace—to call quietly a girl who is not properly gowned, and to send her home, for the necessary reformation. "A few whippers in a few ears would accomplish wonderful things," said a well known matron lately, and she added, "And believe me, they're needed."

It was an American woman, who gave in Europe last week, the finest dance of the season. She is Donna Torlonia, who has made a stunning sensation in Rome, and whose fame as a hostess has spread all over Europe. She is the daughter of Charles E. Moore of New York, and she has a great deal of money. The wonderful dance she gave is the talk of Southern Europe, and is interesting as establishing a standard for splendid entertainment, incidentally for much spending of money. Queen Elena was there and the Queen Mother, and all the nobility of Rome's most exclusive aristocracy was at the wonderful ball.

Donna Torlonia took the entire ground floor of the Excelsior Hotel and bade to the feast 500 of the elite of Rome.

and the pillars covered with flowers, within which were hidden birds and electric light bulbs, while the floors were covered with carpets made expressly for the occasion, representing the grass of lawns dotted with flowers. Of course, the dancing-hall floor was bare.

The evening began with a cotillion led by Baron Morpurgo, Count Suardi, and Don Giulio Antici Mattel. The favors nearly all came from London and were eagerly sought for. They consisted of gold and enamel pencils, reading glasses mounted in silver, handkerchiefs sachets of point de Venise, statuettes of Sevres, Moroccan card-cases, silver desk clocks, amber cigarette holders, rock crystal paper weights in the shape of elephants, tortoise shell bonbon boxes inlaid with gold, and a hundred other beautiful and costly fancies.

The supper was served in two big halls at midnight, all sitting down at small tables of four, six, eight, or twelve persons. Each table was a bower of rare and beautiful flowers. After supper there was more dancing in which there were entertainers who came all the way from Paris.

WOMAN INSANE BY SISTER'S DEAD BODY

STARVES, BUT HAD MANY JEWELLED

Police Find Miss Manette Warren Was Not Poor, as Was First Supposed.

BULLETIN. LOS ANGELES, Jan. 31.—At first it was believed that the Misses Warren were in straitened circumstances, but the police today found in the rooms a quantity of expensive gems, jewelry and clothing.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 31.—Miss Manette Warren, a middle-aged woman, was found insane in her apartment here yesterday, alone except for the body of her sister, Mary Warren, who had been dead apparently three weeks.

The two, who were about 50 years old, came here from Toledo, Ohio, 21 months ago, and were apparently in reduced circumstances. Always quiet and retiring, Miss Mary took to her room about Christmas. Ever since that time Miss Manette has been saying that her sister was not well and would be much embarrassed at seeing any one.

Continued refusal by Manette Warren to see any one, even when she had made appointments with one of two friends, aroused the suspicion of the landlady of the apartment house, Mrs. L. L. Woods. She went to the telephone booth and saw what she thought was the invalid sister lying in bed. Entry yesterday was made by force. The only clew to their eastern friends or relatives is a Christmas letter signed by "Margaret Cline, 237 Eleventh street, Toledo, Ohio."

The insane woman offered no resistance to being taken to the detention hospital, simply refusing to say anything.

According to the police they are the last of their family and came west with some money, most of which they lost through unfortunate investments. The police say they invested in a Mexican fiber concern.

NEW YORK, Jan. 31.—Three firemen were hurt, one seriously, by the explosion of a vat in a fire which destroyed the Walters Piano Factory at 234 East Sixty-third street, early today. The property loss is estimated at about $50,000.

AMARILLO, Tex., Jan. 31.—One of the most disastrous fires in the history of Amarillo caused a loss early today of $150,000, destroying an entire block and the Amarillo Bank and Trust company. The fire started at midnight and raged for more than two hours. So far as known no lives were lost.

Reserve Bank Agents Arrive From North

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 30.—Twenty-seven hours of continuous traveling gave Secretaries McAdoo and Houston, the organization committee of the new federal reserve system, plenty of time today to reflect on what they have heard and view the scenery. They are en route from Portland, Oregon, where hearings closed last night, to San Francisco, where other hearings will begin Monday, concerning the location of a regional reserve bank. The secretaries left Portland after bankers of three states had recommended San Francisco as the proper location for a regional bank, but asked a branch bank somewhere in the northwest. At San Francisco they will meet local and southern bankers united in advocating establishment of a regional bank here.

A great pile of letters from Oakland girls addressed to the noted singer arrived at T. L. Tribune office yesterday. They were forwarded to the New York home of Van Hoose, 25 East Thirtieth street. The singer will probably file them and give the applicants a tryout when next he comes to California on a concert tour, or he may delegate some local teacher to do this for him. So far the plan has not been developed, the proposition of the philanthropist having barely been considered in detail yet.

MURDERS MAN HE MISTOOK FOR RIVAL

Jealous Plumber Shoots Suitor of Daughter, Not of Wife

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 31.—As the result of a mortal wound inflicted at midnight by Otto Wiegand, a plumber, Peter Cacometis, proprietor of a restaurant at 1139 Fillmore street, died at the Central Emergency hospital shortly after 7 o'clock this morning. Mistaking Cacometis, his daughter's suitor, for a sweetheart of his wife, Wiegand shot the man in the chest several months ago. Wiegand shot the cafe owner and seriously wounded Policeman August J. Harry, who attempted to arrest him.

OFFICER SPARES ASSAULT

"I can't shoot the poor devil. He got me under the heart, but I can't have his death on my conscience. The officer had been beaten by the plumber's revolver from his hand and was about to be attacked again. Wiegand had been ordered to pay his wife $10 monthly by the Superior court. He had evidently seen Cacometis enter the house and believing the latter was visiting his wife instead of his daughter, he fired twice, striking his victim in the head. Miss Annie Wiegand, to whom Cacometis had been paying attention, ran into the street for aid and found Officer Harry.

Patrolmen Drury, Leroux and O'Connell, who went to the house in response to a hurry call, fought desperately with Wiegand before they succeeded in handcuffing him and taking him to the city prison.

At Trinity hospital, where Policeman Harry was removed soon after the shooting, it was reported this morning that the victim had a very slim chance. While he has a chance for recovery the bullet wound below the heart is dangerous and a consultation of physicians was held shortly before noon to determine what was the best course to take.

Former Senator Cullom's Body at Springfield

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Jan. 31.—Snow lay deep in the streets through which the cortege bearing the body of former Senator Shelby M. Cullom made its way to the capitol today, where the body will lie in state until tomorrow, when the funeral will be held.

A guard of honor, consisting of thirty-six members of the Illinois National Guard, ploughed its way behind the hearse and on either side of it. At the capitol the coffin was borne along a pathway banked high with snow and placed in the center of the rotunda.

Interment will be held at Oak Ridge cemetery, within the shadow of the monument marking the grave of Lincoln.

APPROPRIATION YOUTH OF 18 FOR TREATING RADIUM ONE

Government to Provide $150,000 for Concentrators in Mining States.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—The appropriation of $150,000 for erecting and equipping one or more buildings in metal mining states for concentrating and treating radium-bearing ores and other work of the bureau of mines, and $200,000 additional for purchase and treatment of the ores and extraction during the next fiscal year, are proposed in the revised administration bill introduced today by Chairman Foster of the House mining committee. The bill follows suggestions at recent hearings.

It provides that deposits of carnotite, pitchblende and other radium ores, and the public lands containing them, shall be subject to appropriation, occupation and purchase under the mineral laws, conditional upon the ores being exclusively sold and delivered to the United States. All the ores so mined under the federal or state mining laws prior to January 15, 1914, would be sold and delivered under federal supervision of the endowment right to purchase and receive the ores and to grant and hold patents for the lands because of failure to develop and mine the ores "with reasonable diligence."

PROVIDES PENALTY

Failure to develop the lands chiefly for radium-bearing ores for four months consecutively in any year would subject the land to relocation or forfeiture, with discretionary authority to suspend the continuous development requirement. Under the bill, the same discretionary suspension, and the same disposition of the ores to any person, association or corporation, other than the United States, is declared unlawful, and the person, association or corporation, under the forfeiture provisions, would be fined at least twice the ore value.

The secretary of the interior would be authorized to purchase the ores from the public lands at prices to be fixed by him and to be promulgated January 1 and July 1, each year, and, if necessary, to purchase them from other sources, and to sell the products and dispose of or use the radium "as will best serve the needs of the people."

BRENNER IMPROVED

BALTIMORE, Jan. 31.—Congressman Robert D. Brenner, of New Jersey, who is taking radium treatment for cancer at a sanatorium here, was reported to be much better today following a "little setback" which the physicians said he had suffered. Reports that Mr. Brenner was dying were said by the physician to be groundless.

The trip was made from Oroville in record time and the furniture was unloaded and unpacked at Mackay's warehouse. It will be put into the clubrooms early Monday morning.

Mystery in Arrest of Matron at Gangplank

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 31.—On the arrival of the steamship San Ramon at 9 o'clock this morning Detective Furman and Lemon arrested Mrs. Thelma Ray, matron of 22. Although smiling at the officer and declaring that some one would suffer when she did make a declaration, the prisoner would say nothing as to the reason of her apprehension. She was taken into custody on a warrant from Constable Weinberger of Portland, Ore.

The warrant was sent by telegraph, and does not state the charge of which the young woman is accused. Her aliases are given as Peggy Ray and Mrs. Jack Bunt.

"I am going to see an attorney, and I won't say a word until I have talked with him," she asserted.

A dispatch from Portland says that Mrs. Ray is wanted there for breaking into the apartment of Mrs. Montess Lafond and stealing jewelry and clothing to the value of $250.

YOUTH OF 18 FOUND GUILTY OF MURDER

Slayer of Messenger Boy Faces Sentence of Death on Scaffold.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 31.—The certainty of a sentence of death, Louis Bundy, the 18-year-old boy convicted of a very last night of having murdered his (him, Harold Ziesche, a messenger boy, to obtain $20 to buy his sweetheart a present, was completely unshaken today.

The jury after a long deliberation returned a verdict of first degree murder last night, with no recommendation for mercy. With the realization that this judgment left the court no alternative but to condemn him to hang, Bundy spent the night shrieking and raving in a vain repentance. The youthful murderer will be brought into court for sentence Tuesday. He is said to be the youngest criminal ever convicted of capital crime in California in whose case no recommendation for mercy was made. Ziesche, a fine state messenger, was beaten to death by Bundy the night of December 19, 1913. Bundy had sent a telephone message to the drug store instructing him to send the messenger to a fictitious address with an order of medicine and change for a $20 gold piece. He watched Ziesche leave the store and waylaid him in a lonely place. After crushing his head with a club and a boarder Bundy fired the boy's body into a ditch. Two days later he was arrested and confessed. His attorneys made a desperate plea for his life.

FAILS TO UNDERSTAND

When the jury, after five hours' deliberation, returned its verdict the youthful murderer, Bundy, made a statement without apparent understanding. He turned to Frank Dominguez, one of his counselors. "What does it mean?" he asked. "It means that you must—that you must make a fight for your life," answered the attorney. Bundy then buried his face in his hands.

With a "Good night" to his father, brother and sister, who had heard the jury return its verdict, he was led back to his cell.

DESTRUCTION GOES IN WAKE OF STORM

Traffic Blocked and the Wires Are Prostrated by Storm

CHICAGO, Jan. 31.—Death and destruction has followed in the wake of the great snowstorm which, sweeping through Illinois, has buried this city under a frozen sheet of sleet and ice, blocked all traffic, wrecking the light and telephone systems, imprisoning people in houses, and causing innumerable deaths in all parts of Chicago. The storm, the heaviest in years, has resulted in one known death and several missing people reported to the police who have not been located and may have been frozen in the storm. The body of a well-dressed man, who supposedly died during the height of the storm, was found in the streets while the snow was falling. Several missing persons reported at police headquarters are now being sought for fear they, too, have fallen victims to the cold.

Street cars are blocked, traffic on railroads and the lakes is at a standstill, and wires are down in all directions. By wires and third rails are covered with ice. Hundreds of the city's unemployed were given work clearing trains and streets in an effort to keep the main thoroughfares open, and the downtown sections have thus been kept fairly passable. By eight o'clock last night the snow had fallen to a depth of eight inches, which was added to by the heavy fall of last night.

In the lake regions of Indiana and Ohio it is reported that the storm did severe damage. The state, Ohio and Indiana are in the clutch of the weather, and all suffered intensely from the cold.

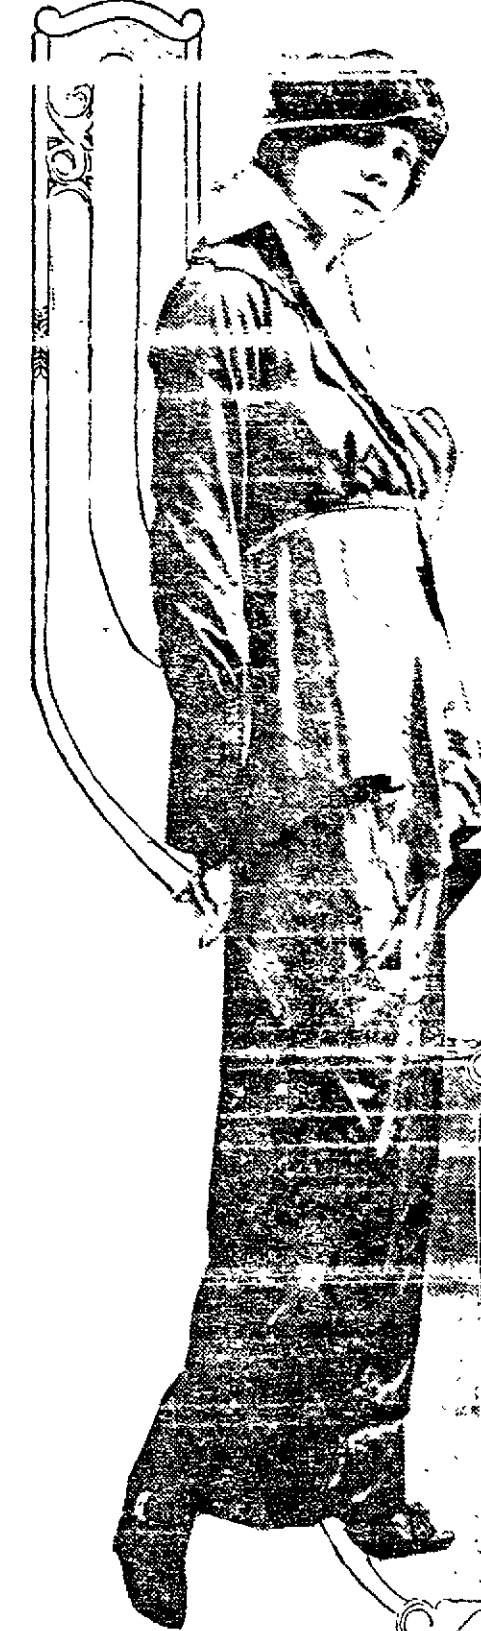

Two Fishermen Rescued Just as Launch Sinks

VALLEJO, Jan. 31.—Sitting on the gunwale of their boat and shouting for help as the waters of the bay, through a great hole stove into the vessel's bottom, rose steadily, two Greek fishermen from San Francisco, whose names were not learned by their rescuers, were taken from their launch yesterday just as the boat sank.

They were brought ashore and received medical attention and dry clothing were sent to San Francisco. The men were, according to their story, on their way to Napa with a load of herrings and they not knowing the channel, their boat collided with a buoy. The resulting leak was too large to allow bailing out of the boat, and knowing that the vessel was doomed, they set up a cry for aid. William Blackwood and J. P. Emmis, who live near the beach, heard in time to put out a boat and rescue the men. The boat and its cargones were near the foot of Tennessee street, and had been there for some time. The men declared that they did not know the channel and thus explained the mishap. Several buoys in the channel may be moved further in as a result of this and other accidents.

Witness Excused in Coal Land Trial

SEATTLE, Jan. 31.—James I. McPherson, an engineer formerly employed by the Alaskan Development Company, who has been on the witness stand several days in the coal land trial of Charles F. The government has planned to call Udo Hesse, also an engineer who was employed by the Alaska Development Company in its operations in Alaska, as its next witness.

TWO MORE WORKMEN ARE INJURED AT FAIR GROUNDS

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 31.—Following close upon the injury of three men in another part of the fair site yesterday, two carpenters were severely injured on the exposition grounds this morning as the result of an accident. The injured are W. H. Spencer, of 800 Golden Gate avenue, who suffered two broken wrists, a fractured left leg and severe bruises of the body, and G. Marohnis, of 4487 Twenty-sixth street, who received injuries to his spine.

Spencer was working on a scaffold on the roof of the building, and Marohnis was on another scaffold, was Marohnis on the roof slid off, smashing through both scaffolds and sending the workmen toppling to the ground. They were removed to the Central Emergency Hospital.

TRAGIC COUNT SHOWS 41 DROWNED

Federal Government Will Determine Cause of S. S. Monroe Collision.

NORFOLK, Va., Jan. 31.—With the final tragic summary written, showing that forty-one lives were lost and ninety-nine saved as a result of yesterday's disaster at sea, interest here today centered in ascertaining the causes that led up to the accident. The versions of the officers of the steamer Nantuxet, which early yesterday crashed into and sank the liner Monroe of the Old Dominion Steamship Company, and of survivors have been told. It now remains for the federal government officially to determine the cause and other facts connected with the collision.

The revised list of victims and rescued showed that forty-one persons whose lives were lost nineteen were passengers and twenty-one were members of the crew. Of the ninety-nine persons saved thirty-nine were passengers and sixty were members of the crew.

Preliminary steps for beginning the federal investigation were taken today on instructions from the department of commerce at Washington.

LINES OF INQUIRY

The inquiry will be directed along three distinct lines as follows: "Whether the masters of both vessels used every possible precaution to prevent a tragedy, including a low speed headway and continual use of fog horns." "Whether the terrible death rate among the passengers of the Monroe was due in any way to a lack of discipline among the wrecked ship's crew." "Whether the two vessels were in their proper positions prior to the collision."

The question of a possible panic among the crew is one to which the federal authorities will direct their attention. Survivors, however, declare that little, if any, confusion followed the collision. All of them praise the crew for their splendid behavior.

Some of the survivors, worn out by exposure and hardship, spent restless nights or lay on hospital cots, while others were on the way to their homes today.

An officially revised death list shows today that 41 perished. Nineteen of those were passengers and 22 were of the crew. There were aboard the Monroe 139 persons. Wireless reports from the wrecking steamer on the scene of the disaster say no bodies have been recovered.

HISTORY OF WIRELESS HERO

NEW YORK, Jan. 31.—Ferdinand Kuehn, chief wireless operator on board the liner Monroe, who took off his own life preserver and strapped it around a woman from the wrecked Monroe started to sink early yesterday, lived with his parents in the Bronx, N. Y. and Mrs. Abraham Kuehn, and his 12-year-old sister, Victoria. The father is a furrier. All day yesterday friends of the family called to ask for news and offer encouragement to the grief-stricken parents.

From Mrs. Kuehn it was learned that Ferdinand was only 20 years old. He became interested in electronics when a pupil in high school in the Bronx. As a schoolboy he had learned the principles of wireless telegraphy sufficiently to rig up an apparatus of his own at his home. This was his second trip on the Monroe.

Women Take Long Hike On Dare; Are Arrested

TACOMA, Wash., Jan. 31.—Bedraggled and wet, Miss Jeanie Decker, Miss Marguerite Frank and Mrs. Irving Frank arrived here yesterday after a 36-mile tramp from Seattle, begun the day before. The three women were taken into custody at Auburn on possible vagrancy, but after a talk with the officers were released and provided shelter for the night. The women say they took the tramp on a dare and that they did not spend a cent, being supplied with food by persons along the way.

ALAMEDA

PLAN BUREAU TO GUIDE AUTOISTSVisitors From Other States to
Be Told About All Good Roads.

(By EDMUND CRINNION.)

The tourists motoring to California in the great Panama-Pacific Exposition as the primary reason for their trip. Those who can indulge and do not will be in small minority. Such is the word that has come out and to reassure those who are planning to take this great educational trip the cities of the west are arranging to provide every facility for comfort along the way.

It is a matter of statistics that ninety-six per cent of the tourists traveling to California are from the east. It is the outstanding one; it will be the same with the motorists. If they are advised that they can reach San Francisco via the old transcontinental route and that there is a plainly marked road to return over another route it is a certainty that a large majority will go back that way.

The same can be said of touring up and down the coast during fair times. Realizing that the motorists of California and the company at the recent annual conference decided to establish at the different branches of the company information bureaus for the benefit of motorists.

MARION OUT OF RECEIVERSHIP. INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Jan. 31.—What is taken in local financial circles to be a most optimistic sign of trade conditions in general and of the automobile industry in particular, was the lifting of the receivership for the Marion Motor Car Company of this city on Saturday.

San Jose Organizes. San Jose is planning an active season among the motorists. D. E. Watkins, secretary of the California State Automobile Association, reports that the motorists of the Garden City will meet on next Friday evening in the chamber of commerce to form a branch of the California State Automobile Association.

Big Simplex Attracts. A motor car that has attracted considerable attention on automobile road races is the big Simplex car owned by Eddie and driven by Barney Oldfield.

The new model "O" Mercer just received by the Simplex-Mercer Pacific coast agency is one of the most unique cars seen this city.

Gates Goes to Ranching. BERKELEY, Jan. 31.—W. A. Gates, for more than ten years secretary of the California State board of charities and corrections, left Berkeley today for his home on a Gravenstein orchard of about five acres.

Notice, Shoe Merchants! Every Shoe Merchant of the East Bay district including Berkeley, Oakland and Alameda, is requested to be present at the Chamber of Commerce Building, Thirteenth and Harrison streets, Oakland, at 8 p. m., Monday, February 5, for the annual organization meeting of the East Bay Shoe Merchants' Association.
